Subject: PBS / FRONTLINE

Dear Mr. Barak,

Dori Weintraub suggested that I write you directly about our request for an interview with you. I'm a producer / reporter working with the American television documentary series FRONTLINE, which airs nationally on the PBS network, and our team is now working on a two-hour special program that will look at; the Iranian nuclear deal and what led up to it, the history of Israeli / Palestinian peace negotiations — and how both Prime Minister Netanyahu and President Obama view the way forward on these important issues, where they differ, and why. We will look at the historical and political basis upon which their views are founded, as well as how their personal experiences come into play.

Our program will include interviews with Israeli officials, Obama and Clinton Administration officials, Palestinian officials, along with respected American and Israeli experts and journalists. We have only begun conducting interviews in the US, but among those we have already talked to are; Dennis Ross, Senator Mitchell, Martin Indyk, David Axelrod, Aaron David Miller, and Sandy Berger. Interviews with White House officials will be conducted after we travel to Israel in mid-August.

Your voice would be an essential one to include on all of the issues above. Your role as Prime Minister, Deputy Prime Minister and Defense Minister has put you at the forefront of the fight to assure a secure future for Israel for decades, and as an eyewitness to almost every important event that has taken place in Israel since the 1960's. We'd love to include your views on some of the historic events you have been a part of and to get your overview on recent events and how US / Israeli relations have evolved.

We will be in Israel from August 19th to the 28th. We are probably shooting interviews in Tel Aviv on the 19th, 21st, and 23rd and in Jerusalem, later that week. Please let me know if you might be willing to sit down with us, and if so, when might work best. If you have any questions about the program, I can be reached on 781-659-5869 or by email at jgilmore@kirkdocumentary.com.

Our team's past films have focused on United States national security, political and economic issues, and have won 5 Emmy's, 3 Peabody and 2 Polk awards. Our work can be viewed by searching under my name or that of our senior producer, Michael Kirk, on the PBS / FRONTLINE website: <http://video.pbs.org/program/frontline/>.

Many thanks for considering this request.

Sincerely,

Jim Gilmore
